

CONTENT USAGE TERMS – implemented by the Faces of Slovenian Regions Portal

The Faces of Slovenian Regions Portal will strive to ensure that the data published is as accurate and true as possible, but it does not guarantee for the published documents and data or assume any legal liability relating to accuracy, completeness or applicability of any information, product or process described.

The portal respects users' privacy and will only collect data provided by users voluntarily. This data will only be used to improve the portal's quality and will not be passed on to third parties without the user's consent.

The Faces of Slovenian Regions Portal also contains copyrighted materials. Users who reproduce or redistribute these materials are expected to comply with the conditions and obligations required by authors or copyright holders. Such protected materials may be cited and used in good faith, as permitted by the regulations on copyright and related rights, which generally allow use for non-commercial purposes educational and research purposes. When using its content outside the Portal (in/on other media), the Faces of Slovenian Regions must be cited as the source.

The Portal's partners hold copyrights to the Faces of Slovenian Regions Portal app, yet they don't hold any copyrights to any individual record in the database data created by individual participating institutions. The authorship of records is permanently recorded in the Faces of Slovenian Regions database.